

Munroe Craig

Munroe Craig is the Co-founder and Outreach Director of Karmik, a west coast harm reduction initiative, focusing harm reduction strategies while promoting health and safety in nightlife/festival communities. Holding a Bachelor of Health Sciences with a Majors in Addictions, she is often working as an addictions counselor and operates from a philosophy of harm reduction in all aspects of her profession. Her specializations includes street entrenched, highly resistant youth, & those with concurrent disorders and transpersonal psychology. She has been a substance use counselor (in day programs and custody settings); street youth worker in multiple agencies located in downtown Vancouver; a youth outreach worker in the well-known Downtown EastSide (DTES) of Vancouver, BC and more. Operating with a specialty in expressive and creative therapies, her personal experience growing up in the electronic music, art and festival scenes solidified her views on harm reduction and the alternative healing capacities.
